As we leave our study of the prophet Amos to enter Advent*, I hope you will take Amos with you. He was an ordinary guy like you and I, busy, filled with his own concerns, when one day while on the job he heard the voice of God. The voice said, "Go! Prophecy to my people." Amos was compelled to extend God's message to others. The message contained a rather striking wakeup call and an astounding blessing. The message pointed to the world's problem and to the world's hope.

We don't necessarily turn to prophets for instruction – we, like those first hearers, might be inclined to shut them out and turn them off. But, I find pondering Amos' message to be helpful. It encourages me to consider acting like Jesus when I encounter people each day. It helps me wake up to God in my daily life and let it show to others. It inspires me to love God with all my heart, soul, and strength, and my neighbor as myself. I need that inspiration; otherwise I default to selfishness and discouragement – ah, the world's problem.

God told Amos a wonderful blessing was coming to God's people after all. Here are some of the promises: God will raise them up; repair and rebuild all that is broken; restore their fortunes. Their grain and grapes will grow faster than they can be harvested and the fruits of their labor will be enjoyed. These are wonderful, hopeful promises for them – and for us now.

Faith and hard work that results in fruitfulness surely blesses us and blesses those around us. We become a bright light of hope, and that points others to God. Another prophet wrote: "The people who walked in darkness have seen a great light; those who lived in a land of deep darkness -- on them light has shined" (Isa 9:2). How wonderful to move out of darkness and into that light, and then with great joy, bring others into that light, too. As you fix your eyes on Jesus this Advent season, trusting Him, believing Him, and following Him, know that "this will happen." For Amos tells us: it is Your Lord who does this.

Merry Christmas, Ginger

For those who ordered a Poinsettia, they may be taken home on Christmas Eve, after the Candlelight Service.

*For example, in Psalm 96:

¹¹Let the heavens rejoice, let the earth be glad; let the sea resound, and all that is in it.

¹²Let the fields be jubilant, and everything in them; let all the trees of the forest sing for joy.

¹³Let all creation rejoice before the LORD, for he comes, he comes to judge the earth. He will judge the world in righteousness and the peoples in his faithfulness. "

Hi, my name is Amos! I hope my sign got your attention—Yes, REJOICE because the righteous judge is coming—and He will set everything right at last! During Advent, as you festively remember when that judge first became fully human, I know you're also preparing for His return. Should you be afraid? Well, yes—just read my book that Pastor Ginger's been preaching from lately! (It's only about 2700 years old.) Judgment is a terrifying prospect for the unforgiven. But even that final judgment is not just about God's justly punishing sin. It's about God's mercy AND His justice. He will right all the wrongs that we've brought into this world—by His grace even make right the relationship we have broken with Him. Do you long for all the injustices in this world to be made right? Rejoice! Jesus the judge is also the one who intercedes for us, so who can condemn us?! The vision God gave me (and my contemporary, Isaiah, and guys who wrote psalms)* is that the "terrible" day of judgment will also be the day of complete restoration—of us, of relationships, of all creation! I can't wait!

*This is the irrational season
When love blooms bright and wild.
Had Mary been filled with reason
There'd have been no room for the child.*

Children's Sunday School

We are enjoying an increase in attendance these past several weeks, so much so that we've split the elementary class in two: the Bethlehem Bunch and the Galilee Group. This means that we need more teachers. Please volunteer to teach for a three-Sunday stint if you can, or be ready to say "yes" when we come ask for your help.

Recently the elementary class studied the life of Moses. Using sculpture, drama, and hieroglyphics they learned how Moses was rescued from the Nile and later lead the Israelites out of Egypt! Take one of the students to the bulletin board near the offices and ask them to tell you one of the stories about Moses.

In October the intermediate class (grades 5-6) focused on the theme of being strong in the Lord. They know Paul's list of the armor of God and where to find it in the Bible. Sometimes they made models or drew pictures of this armor. Always we discussed how we would use this "armor" in real situations.

Currently the kids are working to prepare a Christmas musical. Dress rehearsal, including dinner, is Wednesday, December 5, 5-7pm, and Saturday, December 8, 5-8pm.

Stop by our classroom and you can see some of the many things we are thankful for on the tree!

Missions News

Very soon we will be taking part in the annual Christmas auction and spaghetti dinner. It's always a fun time. Have you ever wondered where the money from the auction is used?

Our Presbyterian Women's groups have chosen a number of projects over the years. Last year their mission project was a work in Mexico, the Sureste Presbyterian Theological Seminary in the state of Tabasco, Mexico. This year they have chosen the African International University near Nairobi, Kenya.

Originally founded in 1983 as Nairobi Evangelical Graduate School of Theology (NEGST) the school received a university charter from the government of Kenya in 2011 and changed its name to fit its new status. (Perhaps some of you will remember that this is the school where George and Mary Huttar taught before they returned to the US.) Its stated vision is to produce "Christ-centered leaders in Africa, educated to transform God's people and world."

The university came into being through the vision of the late Dr. Byang Kato of Nigeria, who then was the first African General Secretary of the Association of Evangelicals in Africa and Madagascar. He was deeply concerned because at that time the evangelical churches in Africa had seen little need to provide training for their pastors beyond certificate or diploma level. He saw a coming crisis of 'Christopaganism' in African Christianity and was convinced of the need for African Biblical theologians with advanced training to combat this trend. Practical as well, his objective was not only the enrichment of scholars, but of the ordinary believer in the churches; the African Christian was often poorly taught and vulnerable to a confused understanding of Christian truth. He felt that an evangelical graduate school of theology was the instrument to solve this problem.

Since that beginning, the university has sought to educate Christ-centered leaders for the Africa's needs. All students take core courses that include: Foundations of Christian life and mission, Hermeneutics, Bible and moral issues, Leadership and Research. This core is considered vital for engaging further branches of knowledge in a way that is biblical and missional.

FPCD's Presbyterian Women chose this year to contribute to this significant university and at the same time to honor Dr. M. Douglas Carew who until his untimely death was the very valued vice chancellor of the University.

Editor's note: If you would like to learn more about AIU, check their site on the internet: www.africainternational.edu, and that of their fundraising partner in the U.S., Christian Leaders for Africa: www.clafrica.com.

FROM OUR YOUTH

“ THE CLOSET ”

Dear Congregation,

Our Youth Group, aka “The Closet” is back in full swing. In October we changed our schedule in order to not conflict with the different school events. Our students are heavily involved both academically and in extracurricular activities. For example, all of regular attenders are involved in Sports, Dance Team, or Orchestra. We are incredibly blessed to have such a talented group and yet it can present a scheduling challenge at times.

Lucy Russell(17), the daughter of Sean and Lucy Russell, was nominated for Homecoming Queen and even though she didn't win at Duncanville High School, she is certainly 'the Closet' Homecoming Queen. Also, our students who are involved in High Hats went to the Texas State championships and finished in 13th place.

One of the challenges of being a Youth Pastor is not only to teach the students about Christ with words but to also give them action-opportunities to serve. In October, a few students and I went to 'The Bridge Ministry' to serve the homeless food and water. This was an excellent time for students to live out their faith and also enjoy fellowship with one another serving Christ. On December 12th we will be heading over to Duncanville Outreach to pack boxes of canned goods for the upcoming Christmas season. Please consider joining us.

In October we spent two weeks learning about grace. Mainly, we talked about 3 different gods (god the Santa Claus vs. god the Negotiator vs. God of the Bible). During these messages we explored what it means to live in relationship with a God who blesses abundantly and yet obliges a response. We talked about the difference between doing good because we've been blessed and doing good in order to gain God's blessing. We also made it a goal to write down 5 things for which we are thankful for 21 consecutive days. In December we will be singularly focused on the incarnation of Christ.

Thank you for keeping up with the youth group. Please feel free to ask more questions if you have them. We are an open group and love connecting with all people.

Grace & Peace,
PASTOR STEVE

"Follow the STAR!"
A Christmas children's musical

Join FPCD as we "Follow the Star" with the children of our church and community.

This Christmas special, lead by FPCD's accompanist Deborah Titus, was written by David Ebersberger, Luke Gambil & Susie Williams. It is a fun and joyous reminder of why the wise men of the Christmas story sought after Christ and why we still do today! More commonly referred to as the three wise men or three kings, the journey of the Magi is an amazing story of obedience, faith and worship. Enjoy the fantastic story of the three companions as they set their sights on a bright star in the heavens that would ultimately lead them to the Christ-child, the King of all kings!

Find your place in the sanctuary on Sunday, December 9 at 10:30 am for the morning worship service as the children lead us in the quest for the Christ Child this Christmas season. You may be surprised to find that FPCD's children's choir of three faithful members has grown to 15, or more! The crew of leaders that have become involved has grown also. Deborah has inspired us all and the results are truly amazing! You will hear these children skillfully deliver lines, sing joyously, and move to the music. You won't want to miss being there.

Christmas is a time of sharing. Please consider a gift for the hardworking staff of your church. By designating your payment "staff gift" and placing it in the offering plate between now & December 16, you help make Christmas a little happier for those members of the FPCD staff. (This is a different opportunity from the Christmas Joy Offering that is collected for the PC (USA). Your generosity is greatly appreciated.
